Description

The Honda Civic VTEC Turbo Type R GT is a 2019 model that boasts a 2.0L Petrol Engine, meeting the stringent Euro 6 emission standards. This trim level is the top-of-the-range variant, offering a range of impressive features. As you'd expect from a high-performance vehicle, the Civic Type R GT comes equipped with a comprehensive suite of standard equipment, including Climate Control Dual Auto Air Conditioning, Bluetooth Hands Free Telephone, and LED Headlights. For added convenience, the vehicle also features a Rear Parking Camera and Parking Sensors at both the front and rear, making parking and reversing a breeze. The interior is further enhanced by the inclusion of a range of advanced safety features. The Honda Civic VTEC Turbo Type R GT is a force to be reckoned with, accelerating from 0-62mph in just 5.8 seconds. This impressive performance is matched by its generous boot space, making it an ideal choice for those who need to transport a lot of gear. Whether you're a thrill-seeker or a practical driver, the Civic Type R GT is a compelling option in its class. Its impressive acceleration and spacious boot make it stand out from the crowd, offering a unique combination of performance and practicality that's hard to find elsewhere.
